WASHINGTON, March 21.—
Wilbur W. Marsh, former Democratic national treasurer, denied today under oath the charge that an agreement existed between the Republican and Democratic treasurers to conceal campaign contributions in 1923.

Marsh admitted, however, that he did not file a report in 1923 but explained it was not required by law.

land News.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—All the stealthy insinuations, rumors and gossip concerning the private affairs of the late President Warren G. Harding are to be subjected to the fierce glare of a senate investigation.

Such a searching inquiry is not only promised by Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, chairman of the senate public lands committee which uncovered the Teapot Dome oil scandal, but it is welcomed by some of Harding's closest Ohio friends and associates.

Louis H. Brush and Roy Moore, who bought the Marion Star from Harding two days before he left Washington in June, 1923, on the Alaskan trip from which he returned six weeks later in a casket, are here eager to testify concerning that transaction, concerning which a fresh crop of scandalous whisperings have arisen.

Will Probe Paper's Sale.
One of the most insistent stories circulated to defame the memory of the dead Ohio president is that the sale of the Marion Star, Harding's newspaper, was not a bona fide transaction for which honest money was paid, but that it was tainted with the same old frauds for which Albert R.
Fall, Henry L. Doherty and Harry F.
Sinclair are under indictment.

Specifically, the story the senate committee will investigate is that part of the purchase price was a block of securities of the Continental Trading company, a part of whose illicit profits have been traced to the coffers of the Republican national committee.

Despite previous public declarations, including testimony of Brush before

Our 350,000 Criminals.
Peasants Would Rule.

strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The

NOT MUCH, except odds and ends of news, when this was written late yesterday afternoon. The fatal tracks of the oil bonds led in new directions.
The name of an important judge was dragged in. He says no one sent him any bonds.

SPEAKING of slush funds, bribes, etc., you should read the book written by Judge Kavanagh, of Chicago, after thirty-three years on the bench.
Three hundred and fifty-thousand and individuals make their living, partly or entirely, by crime in our happy country, he says. Last year they contributed 12,000 murders to the nation's news items.

PUBLIC indifference is to blame, says the judge. Each country gets as much crime as its indifference deserves. Judge Kavanagh favors use of the whip because:

"No crime leader retains the respect of his gang after he has winced under the lash. The moron and racketer fear the cat o' nine tails more than prison. Our 350,000 criminals steal yearly enough to build the Panama Canal."

THEY steal more than that. And be ended within two months was der, Zanesville, secretary-treasurer of Ohio subdistrict No. 6, in an address to union miners here last night.

how the mine situation would be set-upon observations made at Washington, D. C., where he had been called to testify before the senate coal committee.

Rumor Says Hinchcliffe and Girl are in Maine.

PORTLAND, Me., March 21.—A report widely circulated here today that Captain Walter Hinchcliffe and Hon.
Elsie Mackay had come out of the great north woods of Maine after their airplane had been wrecked on White Top mountain was discounted later when inquiries throughout the Moosehead lake region and in Aroostook county failed to disclose any trace of the missing trans-Atlantic flyers.

PORTLAND, Me., March 21.—Captain Walter Hinchcliffe and Hon. Elsie Mackay were found in the town of Patten, Me., in Aroostook county today, according to an unconfirmed report.

The report, which reached here in a roundabout way, was unverified. It was to the effect that the trans-Atlantic flyers had come down in the Maine woods and had made their way out to a farmhouse in Patten.

The plane Endeavor was reported wrecked.

OHIO VICTORY FOR WILLIS IS SEEN BY BRUSH

Delegates Will Not be Hog-tied, he Says.

HARMONY CERTAIN
Senator Does Not Bind
Supporters Beyond
Reason.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Louis
H. Brush, of Salem, Willis candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention from the Eighteenth District and president of the Brush-Moore Newspapers of Ohio, issued a statement today on arrival in Washington from a Florida vacation.

"I see nothing complicated or distressing about the Ohio political situation with reference to a contest between Senator Willis and Secretary Hoover," the statement said. "There is no question in my mind but that Senator Willis will have a majority of Ohio delegates. Regardless of the outcome of the primary contest, the Ohio delegation will go to Kansas City to do their best to bring out of that meeting a Republican nominee agreed upon by the entire convention, whether it be Willis, Hoover, Hughes, Dawes, Lowden, or possibly the re-nomination of President Coolidge.

"Delegates instructed for Willis are not expected to be hog-tied as chattels when and if it becomes apparent that it is not possible for him to receive the nomination. This is personally known to be Senator Willis' position."
Brush added that he believed Hoover's friends had made a mistake when they induced him to enter the Ohio primary contest as the resulting factional fight might prevent Hoover getting any of the Willis delegates, whereas had Hoover stayed out, he would have been the second choice of many Willis candidates.

"I have the highest respect for Secretary Hoover," his statement concluded. "I believe, however, that Senator Willis should receive the full support of the Ohio delegates."

LINDY IS GIVEN

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The highest honor that is within the gift of his government—the Congressional Medal of Honor—was bestowed upon Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today in recognition of his unparalleled feat of aerial navigation during the past ten months.

Rarely has this honor been conferred for other than extraordinary feats of heroism in actual warfare, and it came to Lindbergh from the hands of President Coolidge ten months to the day from the time he electrified the world by landing in Paris after spanning the Atlantic in a solitary flight.

MAN WHO HID
PAT M'DERMOTT
SHOT TO DEATH
IN AUTOMOBILE

Morris "Ben" Nadel and Friend Slain Near Willoughby.

KILLERS ESCAPE Bodies are Found in Front Seat of Sedan.

CLEVELAND, March 21.—Morris
"Ben" Nadel, the man who arranged a "hide-out" for Pat McDermott, following the Dan R. Mellett murder at Canton, and a companion, not yet identified, were shot and killed near Willoughby east of Cleveland, early today by two youthful assassins, who escaped.

The two bodies were found in the front seat of Nadel's Lincoln sedan, parked in an isolated section of Lost nation road. The man identified by Cleveland detectives as Nadel, had been shot sixteen times while the youth with him was struck by eleven bullets. Portions of each man's face had been shot away. Nadel was slumped over the wheel with the other victim leaning against him.

A highway patrol rider of Lake county, discovered the tragedy.

Friend Resembles Dan Pfaff.
The only clue to the identity of the killers was furnished by Marshal James Maloney, of Willoughby, who said two strange youths stopped at a Willoughby all-night restaurant shortly before 2 o'clock this morning. They were very nervous and acted in a suspicious manner, Maloney declared.

Nadel, under penitentiary sentence
after being convicted of harboring Mc-Dermott, who is now serving a life sentence for Mellett's murder, was at liberty on bond of $35,000 pending an appeal.

The companion, it was said, resembled Dan Pfaff, also of Cleveland, who testified at Nadel's trial. Several persons who knew Pfaff, were unable to say positively that he was the dead man, however.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The

M. Schwab coal interests were accused before the senate coal committee today by Van A. Bittner, northern West Virginia union organizer, with taking the lead in abrogating the union wage contract in West Virginia.

"In abrogating the contract, our good friend John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was guilty of a crime worse than other operators because of the specific, written terms of the wage agreement signed in 1924," said Bittner.

An increase in the naval avia-

A youthful masked bandit entered the gasoline station of the East Liverpool Oil & Gas company, Pennsylvania avenue, near Ravine street, at 10:15 o'clock last night and, covering Leonard Wines, the attendant, with a revolver, rifled the cash register and escaped with about $48.

Uses Handkerchief as Mask.
Wines, who resides at 138 West Eighth street, was preparing to close the station for the night when the bandit, described as being about five feet six inches tall and weighing about 130 pounds, entered the door.
Across his face was tied a handkerchief, Wines said.

Pointing a 32-caliber revolver at Wines, the bandit ordered him into a corner of the room with his back against the wall, telling him to stand there for half an hour. He then knocked the telephone from the desk to the floor breaking the cord, according to company officials.

Bandit Believed Amateur.
After rifling the register, the bandit fled toward Ravine street. Wines ran to the home of Jesse Fisher, president of the company, who lives at 138
Thompson avenue, and notified him of the robbery.

Fisher notified police and a few minutes later Chief of Police Dermott and Patrolman Lister and Borger were on the job. A search of the neighborhood was made but no trace of the robber was found.

Wines told police that the hold-up man was nervous. The robber's hand shook as he leveled the gun, Wines said.

McDermott believes the bandit was an amateur.

Ban on Lotteries

Basing his action on rulings made by the attorney general's office in Columbus, Solicitor Frank H. Hoover, in a statement made through the press, has declared so-called "suit clubs" are "lotteries" and violations of state and federal statutes.

Contending "clubs" composed of members who individually pay stipulated amounts periodically and where there is a prize, usually a suit of clothes, given with each drawing, are contrary to law," the solicitor has warned that he will prosecute when in possession of sufficient evidence.

Leaving aside the legal aspects of the question, the plan of operating suit clubs, as outlined in information in the hands of the solicitor, is a game of chance, judging from the definition given by Webster. The dictionary explains "lottery" in this fashion: A scheme for the distribution of prizes by lot or chance; esp. a scheme by which one or more prizes are distributed by chance among persons who have paid or promised a consideration for a chance to win them, usually as determined by the number on the tickets drawn from a lottery wheel." And while no wheel is used, the plan of determining winners in the so-called suit clubs is by lot, according to Hoover.

If, as the city's legal adviser says—and his stand is upheld by the state's attorney general—suit clubs are lotteries, they are entitled to no more quarter than candy cards, slot machines, and other games of chance which are barred by the police department.

And if the solicitor knows of any violation of the law, it is his duty to assemble the evidence and prosecute the offender.

State Tournament Runnerup

Speaking of McKinley high school's basketball team which eliminated East Liverpool from the recent Ohio state tournament at Columbus, the Canton Repository says editorially:

"When McKinley's basketball team came to mid-season it showed little promise of accomplishing anything like the results which it has achieved. In fact, McKinley high's basketball team was pretty much kicked around during some parts of the season.

"At the beginning of the preliminary rounds of the state championship tournament for class A schools, which were concluded Saturday night at Columbus, McKinley high was rated at considerably less than approximately a hundred to one to get beyond the first round or two. But what a surprise these young men had in store.

"The team hit its stride at the outset of the state tournament. From the very beginning, the boys uncorked a brand of basketball which was beyond reproach. In fact, it was basketball of collegiate caliber. It was basketball of the kind which overwhelmed all opposition—and it was reinforced by a team which was determined, reliant—out to avenge previous defeats and show all comers what a real squad Canton offers.

"In recent weeks it has been increasingly evident that Canton has a high school which has attained a most enviable position in national and state scholastics. There are more than 80 students members of the National Honor Society, a very coveted honor and a most distinctive position for any school to obtain.

"And the McKinley high school paper has been twice honored nationally as being the peer of all such publications in the high schools of the United States. Now McKinley has won another feather by the activities of its basketball team."

Congressional Activities

At last congress is showing some activity. A piece of legislation has been enacted at the present session. It was signed by the president the other day and is now a law. That was the alien property bill—the first major law enacted by the session to date.

But there is a vast amount of important legislation still hanging fire. For instance:

The proposal for government operation of Muscle Shoals is up to the senate.

The new McNary agricultural bill, embodying the equalization fee, is expected to come up for debate soon in the senate.

The tax bill. This will not come up for consideration until next month—if then.

Flood legislation is lagging. No progress is apparent. Inquiry into brokers' loans fell flat and yielded no suggestions of remedy.

And President Coolidge believes it possible for congress to adjourn in May. The house and senate leaders say June 1.

There are any number of inquiries and investigations on the calendars of both the house and senate. In fact, the major activity in congress is investigation of one sort or another.

However, let the country be hopeful. There has been one bill enacted and approved by the president. And with this one out of the way, who knows but the congress may suddenly approve another and send it to the executive mansion for the president's signature?

Development of Aircraft

Development of aircraft has proved a boon to humanity in many instances.

The most recent achievement was relief of sufferers in northern Michigan. Heavy snows had blocked all means of quick transportation and the food supply became exhausted. Men afoot, and possibly with dog teams would have been the only method to trek into the afflicted area with food.

Instead, however, a giant plane took the air and covered space in hours that would have taken weeks by old methods.

Relief was affected. Food was taken in. Not only that but seriously ill were transported through the skies to hospitals.

Before the work was entirely completed the large plane was damaged when taking off. A smaller plane was pressed into service and completed supplying the hungry.

Were man unable to travel by air, many deaths would have resulted from the conditions.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Diplomatic and consular officials of the United States can not perform marriage ceremonies for Americans abroad, according to new regulations which have just been issued by the department of state. Consuls may act as witnesses at such marriages, and may issue certificates setting forth the facts in connection therewith, but the documents are not marriage certificates.

The regulations state that the laws of the United States do not confer on diplomatic officials any power to celebrate marriages, to act as official witnesses of the ceremony of marriage, or to grant certificates of marriage. It is not unusual for Americans abroad to ask permission to have a marriage ceremony performed in the American embassy or legation, and in the presence of the diplomatic representative. There is no objection to a diplomat's complying with such a request, it is stated, but, on the other hand, there is no obligation on his part to accede to it.

A consular officer of the United States has no power to celebrate marriages in a Christian country where citizens of the United States unless he is specifically authorized so to do by the laws of the country where he is stationed. In non-Christian countries his authority to perform the marriage rite is not sufficiently well established and defined in the jurisprudence of the United States to justify action upon it, the department says. Therefore, it is deemed safer to forbid consular officers to solemnize marriages in any case.

If requested, a consular officer may be an official witness of a marriage in which one of the contracting parties is a citizen of the United States, and in all cases of a marriage in the presence of a consular officer he shall give to each of the parties a certificate of such marriage and shall send a certificate immediately to the department of state.

He must, however, ascertain definitely that the party claiming to be an American citizen is such, requiring evidence of citizenship as convincing as that necessary to support an application for a passport.

The certificate which the consular officer issues is not intended to serve any purpose except as evidence of a marriage which he believes to have been performed in a manner making it valid at the time and place of solemnization. The official's activities in connection with the marriage are limited strictly to being present at the ceremony, ascertaining the legal requirements of the ceremony, and issuing the certificate.

This document must be under the official seal of the consulate and must set forth the names of the parties, their ages, places of birth and residence, and the date and place of the marriage, and must certify that the ceremony took place in the presence of the official who issues it.

On the reverse side of the certificate the official may record complete descriptive data regarding the ceremony, but that information is not to be regarded as an integral part of the certificate and should not purport to interpret the laws of foreign countries with respect to marriage. By means of this information, however, citizens of the United States may be enabled to trace record in foreign countries which will prove invaluable in establishing their citizenship status and in the settlement of estates.

Q. Why do cowboys wear boots with such high heels?

R. A. McC. A. P. A. Rollins says: "The heels of the boots, two inches in height, are vertical at the front, and are in length and breadth much smaller at the bottom than at the top. The tall heel, highly arching the wearer's instep, insures against his foot slipping through the stirrup, or becoming entangled in it. The tall heel also moulds the foot that the latter automatically takes in the stirrup such position as brings the leg into proper fitting with the saddle's numerous curves. The heel's height and peg-like shape together give effective anchorage to the wearer when he throws his lariat aloft, instead of from the horse's back."

Q. What is the prize in the kids' baseball contest called the Junior World Series? R. S.

A. In 1928 the chief prize will be a trip to the World Series for each member of the kids team winning the Junior World Series. A trophy cup is also awarded the winning team.

Q. Should the water be drained out of hot-water radiators during the summer? G. B.

A. The water should be left in. In fact, water should be added until the pipes are full. In the fall, run it off to normal level.

Q. What is the name of the book dealing with evolution that entered into the Scopes' trial in Tennessee? S. N. C.

A. It is Hunter's New Essentials of Biology.

Q. How old is Jackie Coogan? Where is he now? E. R.

A. Jackie Coogan is a young boy of 14 years and is at the present time attending a military school in Los Angeles, California.

Q. How does the firefly produce its light? I. E. U.

A. The firefly produces light practically without loss of heat or chemical rays, but little is really known concerning the method of this production. The seat of the light is the luminous area situated in the abdomen. It is a specialized portion of the fat body, being a plate consisting of polygonal cells, located under the integument, and supplied with nerves and fine tracheal branches. These cells secrete, under the control of the nervous system, a substance which is burning during the appearance of light. This combustion takes place by means of the oxygen conveyed to the cells by the tracheae, which branch profusely in it and break up the capillaries.

Q. Does a woman sit to the right or left of her dinner partner? W. R.

A. She sits at his right.

ABROAD With McIntire

PARIS, March 21.—No visit to Paris is exactly complete unless one tells up the long flight of steps to Sacre Coeur at the top of Montmartre hill to watch the city twinkle with lights in the gathering dusk. Paris sprawls at one's feet in a devastating panorama of beauty.

Here atop Montmartre is the esplanade Place de Tertre, the open square filled with tables where drink is served from surrounding bars. Scores of mongrel dogs roam in packs through the spider web of tiny streets running in a tangled skein on all sides.

Old men who have given their lives to painting sit in camp chairs on the curbs stroking away at canvases that will be worthless save perhaps to posterity. This is not the artistic vigor of the Latin Quarter. It is where men and women actually live in cold dreary garrets gnawing at crusts.

In the square is the Mere Catherine, one of the oldest restaurants in Paris. It is the Ritz of Montmartre hill where one may dine with carafes of red wine for 50 cents. It is a frame building with a scabrous front standing since the 12th century and run by lineal descendants of the original Mother Catherine.

Artists who have studied at the best art institutes over the world will caricature or snap out the silhouette of a visitor for a few francs—a pathetic gesture in order they may carry on the work which they hope will live after they are gone.

On Montmartre hill they dance in the streets at night to assorted music that floats out from the restaurants. There is a gentleness and human sympathy transcending the squalor of the streets and cold cobblestoned streets. A shy young girl may beckon you to dance just to show you you are welcome.

In the cubicle shops with dull blobs of candle light is a disordered array—a jumble of nothing that may be fought for by art collectors a hundred years hence. I bought, for instance, what seemed to me a beautiful still life painting for 11 francs—or 44 cents.

Florence Walton, the dancer, and her husband, Leon Letrim, are opening a haberdashery shop in Paris. Fanny Ward's beauty salon, "The

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

Why is it that a woman will risk her health and life itself for the sake of having a face or figure which she has determined is "beautiful?"

I may be mistaken, but I doubt if many persons are qualified to decide for themselves what is becoming to them. There are women who affect on all occasions a particular style in hats. To me they look like the Old Harry. With suitable headgear they would be pretty women. As it is—well, I decline to express an opinion.

Fat women buy furs, with the markings of the skins running horizontally. Skinny women have the markings running up and down. You don't need to be a student of optics to know that in each such case the offending lines of the figure are made more pronounced.

The fatter the woman, the more determined she is to leave the upper arms and shoulders bare. Why not have the dress made up to fall over the shoulder and to cover the upper arm? Attractive dresses can be made without giving emphasis to individual defects.

Trouble about the whole business is that women—and men, too—see a model garment draped on a sylph-like figure; it looks well and the poor, misguided mortal, unwarned by the sales person, orders one "just like it." The chances are it is no more suited to the buyer than an elephant's trunk would be to the family cat.

The prevailing styles in skirts have brought women's knees into the picture of life. Now there is more to worry about. Straight legs must be had at all costs. Bow-legs and knock-knees have become a social evil.

Beauty doctors have been busy "lifting faces" and flattening projecting ears, but now they must relieve mental agony by straightening the legs. What next?

Why? What is it all about? When will people learn that beauty is only skin deep? Some of the homeliest women I ever saw married men of acknowledged good looks and unquestioned brain development. Somehow or other, they attracted and continue to hold the affection and devotion of good-looking men.

In my opinion, a beautiful "dumb-bell" is a dumb-bell still. She may have a straight nose, shell-like ears, coral lips, marvelous curves and perfect legs, but if she is a dumb-bell

Abe Martin Says

Fountain of Youth," has moved across the Champs Elysees and Guanna Wal-ska's perfume parlor on the rue de la Paix is reported doing a good business. Erskine Gwynne's Journal, "The Boulevardier," also flourishes.

I have seen but one real drunk in Paris and he was an American. He was sprawled out at a table in Foyot's snoring lustily and someone had stuck a card in his hat bearing the penciled inscription: "Rest ici." And it is at Foyot's incidentally where they kept the meancest Suzette in Paris.

Fires are almost unknown in Paris. There hasn't been a real conflagration in a half century and a fireman's life is on par with a salesman of Easter lilies. But there was a fire today in the Avenue de l'Opera. A dress was completely burned up in a dry cleaning establishment and so great was the excitement the block was roped off. The head men in the fire department are carried to a blaze in the side car of a motorcycle. They wear iron hats painted a flaming red and look very silly.

In the Place de Vosges is the home of Victor Hugo open as a historical museum with two francs admittance fee. Place de Vosges is an enclosed square with a park in the center and ramparts with ponderous stone buildings. The Hugo home has four floors of spacious rooms filled with first editions, original manuscripts and art treasures including a bust of the novelist by Rodin.

This evening we prowled about ancient streets off the quai in the Ile de la Cite. This is the old and original Paris and the widest sidewalks are no more than two feet. Some are blind streets not with enough for even the tiny kitten-powered taxis but have their shops, shops and hotels and bustle with life. They are like the rare old miniature etchings of Paris. One hotel with a gaudy lavender front interested me. It had seven rooms, a bar long enough to accommodate three people and was known as the "Pretty Hotel." All the guests, strangely enough, were Americans.

Words of the Wise

If riches increase let not thy mind hold pace with them, and think it not enough to be liberal but munificent. —Brown.

Everywhere the human soul stands between a hemisphere of light and another of darkness; on the confines of two everlasting hostile empires. Necessity and Free Will.—Carlyle.

We moralize when it is too late; nor is there anything more silly than to regret. One event makes another; what we anticipate seldom occurs; what we least expect generally happens. —Disraeli.

Leaves Hair Twice as Beautiful

In a few minutes time, your hair is soft, silky and radiant with life, gloss and lustre.

To have beautiful, fresh looking hair is simply a matter of proper shampooing.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure it.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Coconut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

Checked the Weakness of Old Age This Man Began to Forget His Age in the New Vigor

"World's Tonic is certainly a boon to aged people. When the fires of life burn low in an old man he is subject to all kinds of discomfort. I just felt miserable until I began on World's Tonic. My stomach was unreliable, and I had trouble in sleeping."

"One bottle made me feel ten years younger. My digestion improved at once, and I began to sleep like a baby. I felt better in every way, and began to forget that I was 70. Since then I have gained strength until I am more like a man of fifty."

Harvey Wallace, Adam St., Rochester, Pa.

Literally thousands of old people arrest the march of time with World's Tonic. This wonderful medicine so tones up the system that the infirmities of age disappear. The body is enabled to throw off all impurities, catarrhal troubles disappear, digestion is improved and vigor and strength are increased.

Sold by Carnahan's, also C. N. Brannan's, Wellsville, and all other good druggists. (226).

POLAR FLIGHT IS UNDER WAY

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—Captain George H. Wilkins, noted explorer, has launched his North Pole expedition, according to a cablegram received here by the Lockheed company, builders of the monoplane which the explorer is using.

With C. Ben Ellison at the controls, the plane hopped off at Fairbanks, Alaska, for Point Barrow, 600 miles away on the first lap of the projected flight across the pole, the cablegram states.

Captain Wilkins and his pilot, according to Allan Lockheed, vice-president of the Lockheed company, intend to leave Pt. Barrow of Spitzbergen as soon as the weather is favorable. "The plane will be re-fueled at Pt. Barrow."

The distance between Pt. Barrow and Spitzbergen is 2,100 miles on a path which is a direct line across the North Pole. If the explorer and his pilot succeed in negotiating it, they will see great areas which human eyes have never before looked upon.

"Who is She?"

You simply can't keep people from wanting to know who you are when you're as sparkingly fresh and crisply beautiful as dainty Georgette Vorel, lovely New York City girl who lives at 782 Carroll Street, Brooklyn. Every one admires her lovely figure, and her marvelously clear, rose-tinted complexion; but women marvel most at the softness and lustre of her hair.

"I am so busy that I have almost no time to give to my hair," says Miss Vorel, "and I really don't know what I should do about it, if I hadn't learned how so many of my girl friends here in New York are taking care of theirs. It's so simple. All you do is put a few dashes of Dandergine on your brush each time you use it. This wonderful preparation keeps my hair so soft and lustrous that many friends have commented on it. It makes my scalp feel just grand and all dandruff disappeared with the first few applications. It keeps my hair so clean that I don't have to shampoo nearly so often as I used to."

"Dandergine isn't oily and doesn't show. It makes hair easy to dress and holds it in place. All drug stores have the 35c bottles. Lovely hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents."

Sage Tea Dandy to Darken Hair

By DOROTHY LANG

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. It costs only 75 cents. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

It's hard to excuse Dishpan Hands

"Guests arriving—everything perfect except..."

"MY dinner table, set with all my best china for our dinner to Jim's new friends, had never looked prettier. But it made my poor hands look dreadfully coarse by comparison. They simply broadcasted 'Dishpan!'"

"And because I know it's just such little things that others judge us by, I became self-conscious... ill at ease... at my own dinner table."

"Of course it was foolish of me. With Lux always in the house I was still using old-fashioned harsh soap for the dishes. Until that night I had not realized just how pitifully rough and red it made my hands look."

"Now I use Lux for all my dishes. And for cleaning, too! My hands no longer are reddened and coarse. I'm really PROUD now of my dinner-table hands."

Many household soaps—flakes, chips and cakes—are made in the old-fashioned way. They contain harmful alkali that makes the skin rough.

There is no injurious alkali in Lux. Made by a remarkable process, Lux actually SOOTHES the skin, leaves it a little whiter and softer than before.*

Instant, sparkling Lux suds, ready before you ever put your hands in, are so rich and CLEANSING that the dishes seem almost to wash themselves!

The big package of Lux washes six weeks' dishes! Lovely hands for so small a price!

*Many beauty parlors use Lux suds in manicuring the nails, to soften and whiten the fingers.

Lux keeps lovely the hands that wash dishes

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat.

If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

HERRICK MADE APPEAL TO WILSON IN 1924 TO STEM TIDE OF WAR

WASHINGTON, March 21.—"The situation in Europe is regarded as the gravest in history. It is apprehended that civilization is threatened by the demoralization which would follow a general conflagration." In these ringing words did Ambassador Herrick, in Paris, appeal to President Wilson personally, on July 28, 1914, to stem the mad tide of war then sweeping over Europe from the Balkans.

His message, made public as a part of the American war correspondence released today by the state department, is characterized in diplomatic circles here as the most prophetic and succinct in the entire feverish exchange of telegrams and cables between the world capitals in the dizzy confusion immediately preceding the outbreak of hostilities.

The hazy grasp of the world situation displayed by the American state department is regarded by diplomatic observers here as among the most interesting revelations of the correspondence from the historical viewpoint.

40 Men on S-4 Died Like Rats in Trap

American Flag and Piece of Curtain Clogged Valve, Flooding Control Room of Submarine off Provincetown.

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD, BOSTON, March 21.—Brave men of the ill-starred submarine S-4 died like rats in a trap—some with the membranes of their lungs seared by deadly chlorine gas and others by drowning. It was a lingering death for the forty. An American flag, the banner they had taken oath to defend, and a piece of green curtain cloth clogged a valve, flooding the control room and preventing the men of the submarine from bringing her to the surface, after the crash off Provincetown with the coast-guard cutter Paulding.

Naval experts, continuing their probe of the undersea craft in drydock here today, reconstructed the awful picture of the last hours of the submarine men, 102 feet below the surface. One of them, George Penlar, scribbled with a red crayon on a piece of cardboard a last message—"My body to Penlar, 5609 South 19th St., Omaha, Neb." At this address lives Penlar's mother, Mrs. Kate Mizelva.

This same senate committee four years ago, this tale persists with new embellishments of innuendo, suspicion and partisan propaganda. Ready to Give Details. Brush, for years a close, confidential friend of Harding and president of the Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., which besides the Marion Star, owns the East Liverpool Review, Canton Repository, the Steubenville Herald-Star and the Salem News, is ready to describe in detail every step in the transaction and again give the lie to the malicious tales concerning it.

Moore, general manager of these newspapers, is ready to supply supplementary facts, as is also William H. Votey, of East Liverpool, part owner and counsel.

"If there are any of the Continental oil bonds in the Harding estate we shall tell the world," said Senator Nye in his statement declaring the committee's intention. "If there are none there we shall tell the world. I do not think there are any."

Two other important witnesses at the committee's hearing will be Charles D. Schaffner of Marion, executor of the Harding will, and Hoke Donithen of Marion, close personal friend of Harding.

Indorse Nye's Stand. Brush, in a statement issued Monday night, declared that he and all other true friends of Harding indorse Senator Nye's stand as "absolutely right" and that they will regard it as "a particular privilege to tell the committee again, as we did in 1924, and all facts concerning the newspaper transactions."

"Let us, for the sake of square shooting and in fairness to the memory of President Harding bring this thing right out. In the open and go straight through with it," Brush said. Gossip concerning sale of the Marion Star broke into print when Frank A. Vanderlin, New York banker and former assistant secretary of the treasury, delivered a speech at Scarborough, N. Y., on Feb. 12, 1924, in which among other things he said:

"The Marion Star was sold to two young men of no financial standing for $200,000 when every one in Washington knew that it wasn't worth half that amount. Where did the money come from?" "Where did it go? These are questions that are disturbing the public mind but no one wants to lift the edge of a shroud."

This was eight months after President Harding's death. Brush and Moore immediately demanded that Vanderlin be summoned before the Senate committee, then conducting the Teapot Dome investigation. They also requested the privilege of appearing themselves before the committee.

Testimony Fizzled. Vanderlin was called. His testimony was a fizzle. Not a shred of evidence was he able to produce in support of his charges.

Brush and Moore were then heard. They testified that instead of paying $200,000 for the Marion Star, they paid much more than that sum, and moreover, that later they had refused to sell it back to Mrs. Harding at a substantial increase over the purchase price.

Brush said today that the negotiations for purchase of the newspaper were completed at the White House between him and Harding on June 21, 1921. The following day, he said, the president made his will as drafted by Harry M. Daugherty, then atorney general, and that on the next day, June 22, Harding left Washington on his trip to Alaska.

"As a binder," Brush said, "I handed Harding a check for $50,000. He sent it by messenger to the Riggs National bank with instruction that the money be invested at once in Liberty bonds."

His order was carried out and the bonds delivered to him at the White House.

Later, under the terms of the contract, we paid Harding a check for $125,000 and the balance was paid subsequently as arranged."

PLACE TABLET IN HONOR OF CITY FOUNDER

Chamber of Commerce Pays Homage to Thomas Fawcett.

CAST IN BRONZE

Given Position Beside Other Inscriptions in Library.

A bronze tablet in honor of Thomas Fawcett, founder of the city of East Liverpool, will be placed in the lobby of the Carnegie library this week, through the efforts of the local Chamber of Commerce.

The tablet, is the third of a historical nature to be provided by the chamber, will bear the following inscription:

"In memory of Thomas Fawcett, Founder of East Liverpool, June 11, 1747, September 19, 1920. Thomas Fawcett founded the town in 1878 and named it St. Clair. By common consent of the settlers it was called Fawcettstown. In 1816 it was renamed Liverpool. Later the prefix East was added to distinguish it from Liverpool in Medina county, Ohio. It was incorporated in 1834. Erected by East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce."

Town Founded in 1798. The cost of the tablet is being borne by a group of the descendants of Thomas Fawcett, among whom are a number of prominent East Liverpool people. It is of solid cast bronze, 18 by 24 inches. The letters are burnished to a slight golden bronze color in striking contrast to the rich, dark chocolate color of the oxidized copper background. The back ground is etched, adding much beauty to the design.

The town was founded in 1798 by Fawcett, a Quaker-Irishman. The site of the town was originally purchased from the government by Colonel Isaac Craig, Pittsburgh, distinguished Revolutionary officer, the deed being dated July 1, 1800.

The first tablet to be furnished by the Chamber was that honoring James Bennett, builder of the town's first pottery, which was acquired in 1926. Last year the second, in honor of Will L. Thompson, noted music writer, was erected. Plans are now being considered for two other tablets honoring others who took an active part in the community's development and growth.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 21.—Radio corporation and General Motors resumed their sharp advances in aggressive trading in the first hour today. Radio opened 2 points lower, but before the end of the first half-hour the stock rose 9 points to 162, against establishing a new high record price. General Motors sold at 175, thus for the time being fulfilling the predictions of the bulls in this stock. United States Steel, Nash Motors and other market favorites moved up a point or so in confident trading.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Millions of dollars were added to the staggering losses of the "bears" in Wall Street today when Radio Corporation of America shot up seven points to 162, the highest point that stock has reached, and General Motors moved upward two points to 175, a record high for all time for that stock.

The seven-point advance in Radio this morning increased the value of the 1,155,000 shares of outstanding stock $3,085,000. Today's jump followed an 18-point rise in Radio yesterday.

"Bulls" in "the street" are making a clean-up, in no way better shown than by the steady advance of General Motors, a standard investment stock. When the bull movement started on

J. W. Packard Funeral In Warren Thursday

Pioneer Automobile Manufacturer, Financier and Philanthropist Dies in Cleveland After Long Illness.

WARREN, O., March 21.—Funeral services for James W. Packard, 64, pioneer automobile manufacturer, financier and philanthropist, who died in Cleveland late Tuesday, will be held from the home here at 2:30 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be in Warren cemetery.

Death followed a long illness. Packard had been taken to Cleveland for treatment, but all efforts of physicians to save his life proved futile. He suffered intense pain during the last few months, it was said.

Packard's entrance into the automobile industry was via the incandescent lamp. He worked in the factory of an electric company in New York, then returning to Warren, his birthplace, organized the Packard Electric company in 1890. The company grew rapidly and was moved to Detroit. Packard was president of the corporation until 1903, then chairman of the board, and later a member of the board, until he retired in 1915.

Becoming interested in philanthropy in later years, Packard distributed gifts to many organizations including $1,000,000 to Lehigh university, his alma mater.

Packard was an Episcopalian, and held membership in many clubs. He was an honorary life member of the Elks.

March 3, General Motors was selling around 140. This 35-point advance in less than three weeks has added $509,000,000 to the market value of the 17,400,000 shares outstanding.

MORE trouble in distressed Rumania. The peasants want to rule and the Socialists back them. Here we have no peasant population, although not all of us know it. Once the late George E. Gould, on a tour of inspection over the Missouri-Pacific, took his family with him. The Mayor, Chamber of Commerce and civic organizations of a small city came to the private car asking for a better railroad station.

ONE of Gould's charming young daughters, in white dress, blue sash and white kid shoes, said:

"It's very nice of those peasants to come down and see papa, isn't it?" We have some millions of farmers that would like to run this country, partly, but they don't know how to go about it. No real organization for one thing. Next Fall they will get wonderful promises and then think it over four more years.

MAYOR FOGO OF WELLSVILLE FAVORS FILTRATION PLANT

SEVENTEENTH STREET SEWER ALSO URGED

City Chief Tells Solons of Other Needs Here.

MAJOR PROBLEMS

Bell Telephone Co. Assailed on Failure to Move Pole.

Discussing three major problems with which the city must necessarily grapple with in the not distant future, Mayor Wallace L. Fogo, in a short talk to Wellsville solons last night, urged legislative action for a filtration plant, accessory to the gravity water system, construction of an adequate sewer in Seventeenth street, action toward the ultimate construction of an improved highway into the city, via Clark avenue, and, as well, assailed the Bell Telephone company for its failure to comply with the city's request to remove a pole from municipal property.

He reported the result of the city's recent conference with county commissioners in which the latter pointed out that plans for 1928 had already been mapped out. The commissioners suggested, however, he said, that an estimate of the cost of improving Clark avenue between Eighteenth and Twenty-fifth streets be made.

In speaking of the improvement, the mayor declared that he did not favor the Chester avenue route as proposed in some quarters. Inasmuch as that would take travel through the back, or mostly residential end of the city, and, consequently, would be of little value to the city's commercial enterprises.

Advocates Vote of Electorate. Turning his attention toward filtration, the mayor asserted that council should go on record definitely in respect to obtaining a means of clarifying the city's water supply, suggesting that it would be a good idea to submit the proposal to the vote of the electorate. He pointed out that the water department at present time is in excellent condition and that, under the direction of Service Director George Imbrie, improvement is noted in collections.

"I'm still in record for the Seventeenth street sewer," he declared. "You'll always have water there because it is a low point. Go into the district, up to Sixteenth street and around and investigate conditions closely. You'll see it needs draining. If drainage had been ample in Seventeenth street, we wouldn't have damage cases on our hands."

The mayor pointed out that the bond issue for the sewer job had carried by a majority on the two occasions it was balloted on here, but both times it lacked the 55 percent necessary under the law.

The mayor then condemned the action of the telephone company in failing to remove a telephone pole from the city water works property, as ordered by the city. "They haven't any more right to walk in and do that on city property than they would have on your own private property," he asserted.

"That might make a nice factory site sometime," he pointed out, "and the city doesn't want poles on it."

Solicitor Raymond Knepper declared that he would confer with company officials immediately and in the event they did not take action within the next two weeks, he would make plans to go into court.

HILLCREST CLUB PLANS DEBATE

The Hillcrest Community club will meet on Thursday evening in the school house.

EASTERN STARS TO GIVE DINNER

Arrangements are nearing completion for the dinner to be given by the local Eastern Star chapter tomorrow evening in the Masonic temple, Main street.

COUNCIL WILL APPEAL FIBER DAMAGE CASE

City Solicitor Knepper Instructed to Act.

PAVE RIVERSIDE Broadway Extension Improvement Sought.

City council last night unanimously adopted a resolution authorizing City Solicitor Raymond Knepper to carry the Fiber damage case to the court of appeals.

Fiber, suing the city for $3,000 damages which he claimed as done to his property from inadequate drainage, recently was given a judgment for $1,000 in common pleas court, and Judge W. P. Vaughn overruled the city's motion for a new trial.

Knepper briefly reviewed the case last night and solons ordered him to carry the legal fight to the next higher court.

Council also authorized the employment of Attorney W. A. O'Grady to act in Knepper's place in the Mary Thomas damage suit against the city, which has not yet been called for trial. Under terms of a resolution passed by solons, the attorney will receive $100 for the first day in court, which also includes all the preparedness work necessary to get into court, and $75 daily thereafter.

C. S. Peters, of the franchise committee, instructed two weeks ago to confer with the street car company, reported the committee had decided to await the return of General Manager C. A. Smith before acting.

A bill for $11.50 for the payment of an extra patrolman for three days, in relief capacity, was approved by council.

Resolution authorizing the installation of a telephone in the service-safety director's home was approved.

Solons also approved a resolution instructing the mayor and auditor to renew notices amounting to $8,500, formerly issued to construct the Twentieth Street sewer and to take care of other repair work in the west end.

Resolution declaring it necessary to improve Riverside avenue, from Fourth to Ninth street, by paving, was adopted under suspension of rules.

Kiwanis Women Stage Surprise at Dinner

One Hundred Descend in Body on Men at Toronto-Wellsville Dinner Here Last Night.

Wellsville and Toronto Kiwanis club members today are agreeing among themselves that a woman can keep a secret when the occasion demands. Arranging an inter-city meeting in the United Presbyterian church last night for what they believe to be their own particular entertainment, club members were preparing for a feast and program when almost 100 wives and friends descended in a body on the scene. Kiwanian eyes bulged as the feminine attaches of the organization filed into the dining room of the church and seated themselves at conveniently arranged tables.

It appears that Toronto and Wellsville Kiwanis club officers arranged this session strictly for the men, but Dr. J. M. King, chairman of the intercity relations committee, and Mrs. King, decided to go even further and invite the ladies. The word went around quietly among Wellsville and Toronto wives and friends.

And, so far as could be learned today, not one wife told a single husband.

The Toronto club, in a special inter-urban, arrived at Tenth street on schedule and was met by members of the local members. Headed by the Toronto high school band, they marched to the United Presbyterian church.

A half-hour later about 40 wives and friends of Toronto Kiwanians arrived in Wellsville. They were joined by local forces and they, too, marched into the church.

Address of welcome was delivered by President L. G. Aughinbaugh who then turned the meeting over to Dr. King. The latter complimented the Toronto school band, both for its music and its appearance. The band boys were nattily attired in costumes of red and white, the school colors.

O. A. Goodlin, chairman of the intercity relations committee of the Toronto club, was introduced and he, in turn, introduced President A. R. Evans of the Toronto unit.

Evans announced that the Toronto club just a few days ago had celebrated its sixth birthday and that the club had brought its birthday cake to Wellsville for the benefit of the local Kiwanians as well. A huge, nicely frosted cake was presented to President Aughinbaugh to slice. The latter plunged the knife into the icing and stalled. It developed that the icing covered only a large lard can.

H. C. Molter of the Toronto club then took charge of the program of entertainment. Selections were given by the school band and group songs were sung. Earl Goodlin and Emmett Fleming sang a duet while instrumental selections were tendered by C. S. Williams, piano; Damm Moore, concertina; Clifford Cole, banjo; and Charles Steel, aeolian.

Each feminine member was presented with a box of candy before the meeting adjourned. And, besides, they confiscated the men's special car back to Toronto and the Kiwanians trailed in the regular.

Eighteen mothers, who have a total of 249 children, were the first passengers in a bus which was recently presented to the Salvation Army of London for use in social welfare work.

CHURCH WOMEN'S PARTY THURSDAY

Mrs. H. S. Satow is chairlady of the committee in charge of arrangements for the card party to be given by women of the Immaculate Conception church Thursday evening in the school hall, Eleventh street.

She will be assisted by Mrs. Ruby Satow, Mrs. Catherine Satow, Miss Florence Satow, Mrs. P. J. Suckle, Mrs. Newton Ryan and Misses Gertrude Maley and Mary Fitzgerald.

Five hundred, euchre and bridge will be diversions.

Sues Corns China Co.

Golding Sons Co., of East Liverpool, has filed a petition in common pleas court against A. W. Corns, of East Liverpool, doing business at Wellsville as the Corns China company, to recover $507 and interest on an account claim from July 15, 1927. The petition also asks that the costs be entered as a part of the judgment.

Asks $25,000 Damages. In the $25,000 damage action filed against the Pennsylvania railroad company by Alvin Jarvis, a minor through his next friend, Edward Jarvis, the court has granted the defendant leave to file its pleadings at once.

GOLDEN THREAD CLUB ENTERTAINED

Members of the Golden Thread club met at the mill community house in Wells avenue Monday evening.

During the business session, members unanimously approved the change in name from the Friendly Girls' club. Misses Violetta McDonald and Helen Moore were guests.

The business meeting was followed by a program, including vocal selections by Misses Eleanor Puch and Lina Daurio; remarks by Miss Jennie E. Perry, mill welfare nurse, on "Selfishness", and other features.

A word contest was won by Miss Sarah Matthews, the consolation award going to Miss Gladys Sheets.

Misses Hazel Bell, Mary Davies and Myrtle Matthews were hostesses.

Elks Hope To Even Count With Toronto Quint Here Tonight

Larkins, Bob Crawford Join Lodgemen's Forces

Will Increase Antlers' Strength for Clash With Amsterdam Tournament Winner; Buckeyes, Laughlin in Prelim.

The Browns News quint, of Toronto, representing a collection of former high school stars, together with a number of independents, will meet a revamped Elks team here tonight in the second game of their series.

Victors over the Antlers in their first meeting last Saturday night at Toronto, the Jefferson countians are naturally confident they can make it two in a row but, as Manager Ray Adam says, "something seems to tell us that they're wrong."

The Toronto aggregation recently won the Central States Independent tournament at Amsterdam and are planning to enter the third annual Tri-State district case meet in East Liverpool March 29-31.

It is entirely possible that Captain Smith Anderson, who received a badly injured lip in the Saturday night scuffle at Toronto; will not be in the lineup tonight.

But Manager Adam has taken steps to fill any gaps that might occur in the defense by signing up Dick Larkins and Bob Crawford, neither of whom needs formal introduction to Potter case fans. Crawford and Larkins, together with McConville and "Bus" Crawford, Bob's brother, represent enough first class material from which to select a couple of guards.

The Elks were beaten by the News quint in their first meeting largely as a result of the Toronto team's ability to find the basket in the first half, together with the locals' inability to score. The count at the half was 24-11. After that the Elks had a few shades the better of it and were rapidly overhauling the opposition as the final quarter ended.

The Laughlin Aces and the Buckeyes will clash in the preliminary, beginning at 7:15.

Farrell Cops $5,000 Prize at La Gorce Open

Makes Golf History in Course-burning Drive.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 21.—Johnny Farrell, dapper young Irishman from the Quaker Ridge Golf club, Mamaroneck, N. Y., today was richer by $5,000 in cash and the $1,000 gold plate—the victor's prize in the Miami La Gorce open golf tournament.

He was winner in the first presentation of the richest event in golf history, with $15,000 in cash offered a hand-picked field, by reason of a course-burning drive in the concluding round of the event.

In it he made golf history, setting a new course record for La Gorce of 63 eight strokes under par. He bettered the mark made by Henry Cui of Stratford, Conn., in the qualifying round by two strokes. He finished with a 274 for the 72 holes, or ten strokes under par. He equaled the brilliant 30 for the outgoing nine which Bobby Cruikshank, of Progress, N. Y., had turned in, then passed Bobby in the backstretch, and came home two strokes in front.

YANKEES LOSE FOUR STRAIGHT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21.—The world's champion New York Yankees, who won four straight from the National league champions last fall, have lost five straight this spring to two other N. L. clubs. The Boston Braves walloped the Yanks again yesterday, 4 to 2, and will attempt to repeat today.

Lester Bell, obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for Andy High and a bundle of cash, may play third base for the Braves today.

GIANTS, MACKS DIVIDE SERIES

BRADENTON, Fla., Mar. 21.—With their series with the Philadelphia Athletics having ended in an even break, the New York Giants journeyed here today to face the Boston Red Sox. Tris Speaker's triple in the ninth gave the A's a 6 to 5 victory over the Giants at Fort Myers yesterday. The venerable Les Mann starred at bat with two triples and a single.

May Never Play

Planists and tennis stars need all their fingers. Here is Miss Elizabeth Ryan, United States tennis star, who hails from California. In France, where many court triumphs brought her fame, a slammed railroad coach door smashed a finger which may mean the end of championship tennis play.

East End Boxer on F. O. E. Bill

Eddie Rose to Tackle Ivo Anthony Monday.

F. O. E. fight fans who saw Eddie Rose, the East End middleweight, topple Donald Scott, Northsider, several weeks ago, are wondering how he will go in his next appearance on the lodge program. Rose has been match with Ivo Anthony, of Youngstown, former Potter, for the four-round opener on the Monday card.

Rose appeared in good condition when he licked Scott, and it is not unlikely that Anthony, his next opponent, will appear in pretty fair shape himself, according to Matchmaker McDonough.

Freddie Edwards, Chester boy who has hung up an unbroken string of victories, most of them via the knockout route over district talent, will be back again Monday in a four-round performance with Jack Covey.

Covey, an ex-army scrapper, is older than Edwards and probably knows more about the ring than the men that the West Virginian has disposed of in his battles here this winter.

Covey hung a K. O. on Paul McCrea, of Wellsville, in the Eagles' arena. The battle was the second for McCrea and marked Covey's only appearance on the lodge canvas this winter.

PLYLE'S RUNNERS ON DESERT SANDS

HOLBROOK, Ariz., March 21.—A closely grouped field of leaders in C. C. ("cross country") Pyle's Los Angeles-New York road race pushed on the fastness of the Painted Desert today in the two fifty-two mile trek to the eighteenth control at Navajo.

Andrew Paynes, Claremore, Okla., youth, was ousted from the leadership of the can yesterday when he suffered an attack of tonsillitis and registered a slight fever. He stepped through the 34.3 miles from Winslow, however, but allowed Arne Souminen, Detroit medic, to hold first place by a margin of 1 hour 16 minutes 37 seconds. Souminen's time for the 610 miles from Los Angeles was 106:00:50.

Harold "Red" Grange, co-partner with Pyle in the direction of the race, was confined to the hospital car today with an attack of tonsillitis. The gridiron star scoffed when race doctors told him that he registered a temperature of 102.3 degrees and it was only with difficulty that he was persuaded to forego his duties for today.

Davis Shades Checkler In K. of C. Smoker Scrap

Semi-finalists Outshine Main Bouters Before 250 Fans; Three Draws, Three Victories Recorded in Six Fights.

A PALATABLE dish of 20 rounds of fast and furious fighting, including four preliminaries, a semi-final and a headline card, in which Kid Francis, of Wellsville, and Sharkey Wolfe, of East Liverpool, were the principals, was offered 250 fight fans last night, when the Knights of Columbus held the first of a series of smokers in the auditorium in the Ingram building, Diamond.

Three draws and three clean-cut victories were recorded by popular decision at the conclusion of the card which was in charge of Oscar McVay and his brother, Homer, both long active in pugilistic affairs here.

The curtain raiser was a three-round bout between Battling Billy Geon and Young John McNicol, whose actions reminded old timers of the days of Terry McGovern. These boys, who tipped the scales at 120 rounds, staged three rounds of fast stepping and lively exchanges. They were voted a draw.

Clever boxing marked the second clash of the evening, in which the fighters were Billy Zook, a promising lad, and Young John Phillips, who did not hesitate to mix it during their three rounds of the program. They fought at 130 pounds. This bout, too, was even.

Joe Roberts, the fighting messenger boy, and Eddie George, a youth who proved he could assimilate punishment and hand out his share of it, weighed in at 125 pounds for their three-round go, in which Roberts was given a shade.

Shuffle Callahan and John Stoffel were on even terms at the end of their three-round battle, in which both men gave an exhibition that kept the fans on their toes. Their weights were announced as 140 pounds.

Kenney Davis, of East Liverpool, and Jimmy Checkler, of Wellsville, stole the thunder of the main go in their four-round semi-final which proved the best bout on the card. Tipping the scales at 125 pounds, three boys were primed for action, and they dished it out in good portions. From the clang of the bell they kept their mitts flying and each thrust found a landing place. Davis was accorded the verdict.

Cue Notes and News

Jack Recht boosted his way into third place among the three-cushion billiard contenders in the club parlors tourney last night. As a result of his 25-14 victory over Bergner, Recht jumped from a triple tie with White and Bergner at the 500 mark and is now behind Crawford in second place.

First comes CHRYSLER "72"

all others trail

Chrysler "72" performance makes all other performance in its field seem as out-of-date as last year's license plates. All you have to do is to ride in a "72," and drive it to appreciate the difference.

Only Chrysler's great engineering staff and precision manufacturing organization could have developed 75 smooth horse power from an engine of such moderate size.

You can, at will, do 72 miles an hour and more—velvety, easy miles—due to this unique and vibrationless engine with counterweighted seven-bearing crankshaft.

It takes mountain grades at constant acceleration. In traffic, the "72" flashes to the fore with characteristic Chrysler get-away.

Go to any Chrysler salesroom and ask for a "72" demonstration. Drive the car where and as you will. Demonstration will prove to you just how much better the "72" performs.

Cuyler's Performance In Spring Games Pleases Cubs' Pilot

M'Carthy Hopeful as He Prepares for Trek East

Bruins' Manager Counts on Ex-Pirate Star for Big Year; Infield Uncertain But Hurling Appears O. K.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the fourteenth of a series of articles by the International News Service, dealing with developments in connection with various major league clubs in spring training. Other articles of the series will follow.

VALON, CALIFORNIA, March 21.—Reviewing the training season today, as his Chicago Cubs were making ready to break camp for the long trek east, Manager Joe McCarthy proceeded to reach around his abdomen, reading from left to right, and shake hands with himself on the trade that brought Hazen "Kiki" Cuyler to the club. Cuyler, a prominent man-about-the-bench with the Pirates last year, has been a "wow" with the Cubs to date, his hitting, fielding and team spirit having been the outstanding feature of the Cubs' exhibition games.

"I gave up a good man in Adams," McCarthy said, "but I got a better one in Cuyler. There isn't anything a great ball player can do that he hasn't done for us since reporting. He not only has been invaluable as an individual but has given much of his time and the benefit of his experience to the young players. If Cuyler hasn't strengthened the Cubs immeasurably, then I don't know what I am talking about."

The 1927 Cubs needed some strengthening, as they proved when they blew their league lead in mid-September and wound up in fourth place.

They have the pitching, the hitting, one of the best catchers in baseball, "Gaby" Hartnett, and an inspiring manager who gets the best there is from the material at hand. But three of the four infield positions are far from water tight. Charley Grimm, the former St. Louis peanut vender, is one of the ranking first basemen in the league, and may be figured to steady the other infielders not a little. But he couldn't stop the Cub infielders from kicking them away last year, so the natural conclusion is that Johnny Butler, Los Angeles; Elwood English, Granville, O.; Clyde Beck, Gardena, Cal.; Freddy Maguire, Worcester, Mass.; Norman McMillan, Latta, S. C.; and Elmer Yoter, McKees Rocks, Pa., must make good strictly on their own or the club infield will fall again.

GRID PAYING WAY OF OTHER SPORTS

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 21.—Football not only pays for itself, but for virtually every other sport indulged in by students of the University of Missouri, according to a financial report by the department of athletics. Receipts from the game the past season here total $126,808.00, while all expenses for football were but $45,238. In 1926, football receipts were $126,639, with expenditures of $50,249.

On the other hand, practically all other sports showed a deficit. Basketball in 1927 for the first time made a profit of $900. Losses during 1926 include: Basketball, $2,731; baseball, $2,452; track, $4,347; wrestling, $287 and minor sports $353. Computations for 1927 have not been completed, but are known to be quite similar.

Nearly 2,000,000 pounds of sole leather were imported into Japan last year.

SPORT NEWS AND VIEWS

By the Sports Editor.

YOUNG SWEENEY, or K. O. Sweeney as he is also known, the Jefferson countyman who meets Frankie Porto, of McKeesport, Pa., in the six round semi-final go on the Eagles' card here next Monday, easily out-punited Eddie Ruckman, Wheeling's junior lightweight, Monday night in Wheeling.

Sweeney made a good impression in that fight. Time after time Ruckman tried to land his old right hand wallop that has stalled off many other good scrappers, but he missed with regularity. Sweeney showed an effective right as well as a good left and used them both to advantage.

Ruckman appeared as though he were going back, while Sweeney, who is returning to the ring after a two-year lay-off, showed a lot of his old-time form.

TEDDY WELSH, McKeesport, who meets Steve O'Malley, Bellaire, here next Monday night, will battle Phil Seello, brother townsmen, Thursday night.

H. R. TOWNSEND, recently appointed commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic association, is understood to be considering a revision of plans for the next state tournament.

Nine class A teams and 10 class B teams went to the Columbus games this month, necessitating byes in the opening round. Townsend is understood to be developing a plan whereby 32 teams, 16 in each classification, will compete in the final contests.

According to Townsend, the sixth annual state basketball tournament at the state fair grounds coliseum, Friday and Saturday was a success financially.

Although Fremont was eliminated in the first round and Central of Columbus in the semi-finals, cutting the attendance considerably, it is estimated that gate receipts exceeded last year's mark by $1,000. Results of the official check-up have not been announced.

Stenberville Wells has competed in the sectional tourney at New Concord the past two seasons, but it is said in Stenberville, it is improbable they will re-enter next year. "Unsatisfactory arrangements," Stuber school authorities say, are responsible.

If you wake up feeling tired and worn out, perhaps that's just the day you're in championship form for the 100-yard dash or a broad jump or two before breakfast.

N. E. Grube, star jumper and dash man of Denison university, claims that he always turns in his best performances on the days that he wakes up feeling tired and completely worn out.

Grube adds that if a black cat crosses his path or he can find a ladder or two to walk under on his way to the track, he never overlooks the opportunity, for it always seems to help out.

D. R. CARLSON, coach of Pitt's great basketball team, undefeated during the season, reveals the secret of the team's success. In his own words, he says, "I cannot explain that it is due to anything on the order of subtle coaching, but rather to the fact that the Pitt boys shot more baskets than their opponents. That is simple, isn't it?"

It is not due to any deep-dyed strategy, hatched in the darkness of the Panther stadium somewhere, that the Pitt five won all its basketball games; not because of some intricate, complicated technique evolved to befuddle opponents; or at least Carlson says not and if any individual should know, he is the one. The Pitt team simply went out on the floor determined to get more field goals and, to aid them achieve their object, they

District Cage Meet for "Kid" Teams is Planned.

Harvey J. Price, Y. M. C. A. boys' work director, today sounded a call to all junior basketball teams in the city. Chester, Wellsville and Newell for a district basketball tournament to be held at the "Y" in the near future.

The tournament, if plans are carried out, will be staged along the lines of last year's event in which a score or more of kid teams from the four places competed for district laurels.

Among the prospective entries probably will be the Hilltops, Silents, Excelsiors, Roamers, Mohawks, "Y" Juniors, Belmonts, Columbian Squires, Newell Reserves, Ceramics, Falcons, M. P. Juniors and the Reserves, Hoot Mons, Celtics, Buccaneers and Scouts, all from Wellsville.

A meeting will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 at the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of discussing age and weight limits. All junior squads expecting to be represented in the meet are asked to have representatives at the session.

Bill Watkins, of this city, well known basketball referee and former coach, is an avowed proponent of the basket getting method, also. He firmly believes in the old athletic saying that "a good offense is the best defense."

Sharkey, Winner in Exactly no Fights for One Year, is Rated as Title Challenger!

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Any number of gentlemen who are reasonably confident that they would be able to see an elephant on the other side of a key hole were struck today by the coincidence of Jack Sharkey still being on the New York list of preferred heavyweight contenders and the fact that James J. Johnston represents 10 per cent of his management. Johnston is known as a "lucky" manager in this town; that is, nothing very unlucky ever happens to him or to those with whom he consents to consort professionally.

For example, take the matter of his present affiliations. It certainly was a very lucky thing to be declared "in" on a man like Sharkey, who, at that time, was a stand-off heavyweight, had made critical money and was due to make more. Men spend most of their lives trying to buy into that kind but it seems that Johnston is an exceptional fellow. He didn't have to buy into Sharkey; he already was "in"—just like that. It was just his luck to run across men with whom money simply was no object.

Anyhow, the New York commission has notified brother Tunny that it has one file three challengers for his title from the following: Jack Sharkey, Tom Heeney and Johnny Risko. The commission wants brother Tunny to answer right away as these gentlemen are waiting and I gather that somebody's patience is being exhausted by brother Tunny's dilatory tactics.

Sharkey's last three fights have resulted in one knockout by Dempsey, one draw with Heeney and one defeat by Risko, so I called upon the commission today to inquire just when it would be ready to accept my challenge to Tunny. I called Mr. Farley. He was out of town. I called Mr. Brower. He was out of town. I called Mr. Muldoon. Ah, this is better. He was only out of earshot.

"Hey?" he shouted, after the manner of Uncle Feg, when I asked what drastic thing the commission might do to brother Tunny if he didn't answer their communication by the dead line set, which is tomorrow. "Hey?" he said again and very firmly. I had just asked him what Sharkey was doing in the list of contenders after winning exactly no fights in almost a year.

"You can't talk to me," he observed, finally and with some need of logic. "I can't hear you."

So, the desire to ask why a champion who clamored for two fights, pronto, and might get none, with equal rapidity, was being heckled, simply had to be postponed until Mr. Muldoon could see an ear specialist or hear an oculist or something.

The delay, of course, will be trying on brother Tunny. The chances are he won't be able to sleep tonight for at least a minute. He may try to evade the real issues by saying that he signed to defend his title more than six months ago; that Rickard is paying him guarantees in advance on this very document. But it won't do.

For, when all is said and done, and the alibis and excuses are forwarded, there is no escaping this onerous fact: Brother Tunny hasn't accepted Sharkey's challenge.

MARYLAND BANS SINCLAIR NAGS

BALTIMORE, March 21.—The long arm of the national oil scandals reached even into the racing world today. Harry F. Sinclair's great stable of horses will not be permitted to perform on Maryland tracks this spring because of the "adverse criticism" which the oil magnate has been subjected to in the senate revelations.

The Maryland racing commission, which exercises czar-like power over the four big tracks in Maryland—Bowie, Laurel, Pimlico and Hove de Grace—has advised track officials by formal letter not to allow Sinclair's horses to start in this state.

Sinclair's Rancocas stable is one of the largest racing establishments operated in the United States, being comparable to the Whitney establishments. The oil magnate has sent many famous horses to the races, including the world famous "Zev" which cleaned up American tracks several years ago, and defeated Papyrus, the English crack, in the sensational international event.

TRIBE TO PLAY COLUMBUS CLUB

NEW ORLEANS, March 21.—The Cleveland Indians play the Columbus American Association team at Gulfport, Miss., today. Carl Lind will play short, Joe Sewell and John Goldman being left here on account of injuries.

Stolen Idols

A Romance of the Sea
By Frank L. Packard.

CHAPTER 16.

The ship was more noisy now; the flow and orders from the bridge; the answers from the lower decks; the serang's voice, haltingly in broken English or voluble in his native tongue, much in evidence—a constant succession of weird bellowings against the wind. And outboard to leeward, even in the short time that had elapsed since last he had looked in that direction, the spume line that marked the outer reefs seemed to have drawn nearer. The ship, as yet, was showing no canvas.

From the boat deck he could see, with limitations, both fore and aft. Figures, queer little shapes that, distorted by the darkness, might have been monkeys, were crawling about in the rigging; while along the decks or near the masts other figures constantly ran and squirmed and wriggled. There was commotion enough now!

Bob Kingsley swung his way down the companionway to the main deck. It was no secret this, getting a bit of cloth on masts that were never meant for anything but cargo booms—and not much of a spread after it was set! The Lord knew what the Monotah carried in the shape of canvas in her stores!

But that was apart for the moment now, wasn't it? Would he elect to play the forward or the after deck? It was a gamble—almost like tossing his stakes on the "red" or "black" of a roulette wheel! There were three Chinamen forward, and two aft. He couldn't be in both places at once. Better keep his eyes on the three—and pray to Heaven it wasn't one of the other two who had drawn the fatal stick!

He made no effort to conceal his presence as he reached the lower deck. No one, not even the Chinamen, would credit him with being there for any ulterior purpose now—everybody was watching the Malay sailors at work, and he was instantly conscious that a sense of disquiet an uneasiness pervaded the whole deck. The native passengers were huddled here and there in little groups—obviously sensitive to the fact that something unusual was taking place, that something was wrong. And in them fear was dawning. A child whimpered. The Malay sailors shouted at each other. Some cockatoos, their rest disturbed, screamed anxiously. And there were pigs that, from their crates, grunted discordantly. The silence of the engines was eerie. There was some sail showing now—but it was an inadequate, pitiful bit of a rag!

His lips tightened suddenly, grimly. He had seen all this—but he had not seen one of the three Chinamen who should be here. The deck, however, was only dimly lighted—in spots almost in complete darkness—and it was quite possible that they were somewhere about, even though he had been unable to see them from where he stood.

He made a circuit of the deck—casually. There was no sign of any of them. Again he went around the deck, this time allowing not an inch of it to escape him. They were not there. Queer! Only one man had been chosen—or had he been wrong on that point, jumped to conclusions? Or were they merely hiding somewhere near the spot, wherever that might be on the ship, that had been selected for their fiendish work, and were holding themselves in readiness to assist the actual murder if any assistance should prove to be necessary? In any case, their absence had an ugly look about it! They were evidently already at work, or they would not otherwise have disappeared so mysteriously. He would not have been surprised to have found one of them missing—but not all of them! If he was to accomplish anything, and if, indeed, he was not even now too late, they would have to be found without an instant's loss of time.

He turned and went swiftly back along the deck, making for the store-room in the alleyway that had served the five Chinamen for their secret meetings. It would be a bit of luck if they were there! He might be able to pen them up—fasten the door somehow so that they could not get out. That would take care of them until Captain Karler could, if all went well, devote some attention to them—or until he, Bob Kingsley, if the worst happened to the Monotah, released them so that, little as they might deserve it, they would not drown like rats in a trap. Anyway, the alleyway led right through to the lower deck, and, failing the store-room, the after deck was the next logical place where he might expect to find them.

His hand was in his jacket pocket, his finger snugly around the butt of his revolver, as he stepped into the alleyway. No—no luck here! The store-room door was wide open. The place was in utter disorder—two of the Malay crew were still apparently ransacking it for sailcloth, or possibly cordage, stores of some kind anyhow—but there was no one else in the room.

As swiftly as the heavy rolling of the ship would permit, Bob Kingsley ran, then, along the alleyway and emerged on the after deck. There were not so many native passengers here as there were forward, but there seemed to be more excitement and unrest—as though, even in the almost negligible space of time that had elapsed since he had left the forward deck, the sense of impending disaster had grown more acute. There was a drear, uncanny sound here noticeable over the ship's noises that he had not heard before, a low wailing, continuous, rising and falling—the native women at least were obviously losing their grip. Bad—that! Not a pleasant sight here either—any of it! Some fowls had broken loose and were fluttering and careening insanely around the deck. A rice pot, overturned, had made a slippery mess. Some of the crew were trimming their so-called sail. The second officer barked his orders. An earthenware jar of water lashed its way across the deck with the roll of the ship and bumped into the legs of a closely huddled knot of natives. No one paid any attention to it.

No one paid any attention to him either, as he made a thorough search of the deck—but his search here was as fruitless as it had been on the forward deck. Not a trace of a Chinaman was to be found. Where were they? They certainly had not jumped overboard, and they must be somewhere on the ship. There were the upper decks, of course, the main deck and the boat deck, but they would not have dared—

He was running quickly again—making for the companionway to the main deck. Why not? He had not thought of that before. How did he know who this "man with the torn garment" might be? Not unnaturally perhaps, he had taken it for granted that the description referred to some one of the Chinamen had discovered amongst the native passengers; but, after all, why should he have placed any such limitations upon it. True, it seemed preposterous to link up anybody else with them, especially as no one else remained except the first-class passengers—preposterous that it should be the fat man from Java, or the innocuous little old gentleman of seventy—but it was not impossible. Unexplainable? Yes! But so were those two white gods that had been found among his murdered uncle's effects, and which these same Chinamen here had journeyed to Patua to steal. The ramifications of those two little pieces of carved ivory already had spread out very far indeed. It was more than probable, from what had transpired in the store-room, that "the man with the torn garment" was mixed up in the affair. What was the secret of those idols? What was it that endowed them with an apparently priceless value? Where did they come from? Why shouldn't this fat man from Java, or the timid little old gentleman of seventy, for instance, be involved in the same mysterious quest that was apparently so far-reaching in its proportions? In one sense, the more preposterous it might appear on the surface that such men could have anything to do with it, the more likely it was that one of them was in it up to the neck!

There was no one in sight as Bob Kingsley gained the level of the main deck. His own cabin and those of the two other male passengers were on the port side, and he went forward in that direction. He paused, listening at the doors of his fellow passengers. There was no sound from within, and no light in either cabin. He went around to the starboard side. The deck here was equally deserted—but he halted instinctively to stare out over the rail to leeward. And for a minute, and for still another, a sort of grim fascination holding him, he stood there, his legs braced wide apart against the violent motion of the ship.

Cascara is Your Doctor's Choice

When physicians pronounce cascara the PERFECT laxative—why experiment with things that lash the system into action? Cascara, you know, is the bark of a tree. A natural and normal stimulus to the bowels.

The Indians, whose used to chew this bark, had no word in their language that meant "constipation!"

Perfect regularity is possible today, and to all of us. We have cascara in ideal form; the very delightful-tasting candy cascara gives us pure cascara. It has helped at least a million people to habitual regularity. Millions of others, unfortunately, have stuck to stronger things and acquired only the laxative habit.

Your first cascara will demonstrate how THOROUGH this gentle laxative is, after all. Your next surprise will be the length of time before you need another. Eventually, you'll see that cascara tends to make the bowels move thereafter of their own accord! A modern drug store must stock many laxatives, but for your own good the druggist would rather have you ask for the inexpensive little box of cascara than anything else.

Each contestant will pronounce the word before it is spelled. Only one trial will be allowed for each word. Misspelled words will not be passed to the next contestant but will be corrected by the one pronouncing and the contestant missing the word will be eliminated from the contest.

Homonyms correctly spelled will be accepted whether they are the words listed or not.

Words which are spelled two or more ways will be accepted if correctly spelled any one of the ways.

Contestants may ask to have words defined. Three disinterested persons will act as judges, whose decision will be final. They will rule on all disputed points, using Webster's Unabridged Dictionary as authority.

Rules and regulations for the essay contest are:

All high school pupils in the county are eligible to enter the contest.

Essays shall be not less than 750 words nor more than 1,000 words in length.

The points to be considered in judging manuscripts are: Subject matter, rhetoric, spelling, penmanship, paragraphing and general development of the theme.

One side of the paper only must be used. A standard size paper will be furnished by which the three best essays from each school must be copied. All essays submitted for the county contest must be free from any marks of identification except that a slip must be attached to each on which is the name of the writer and the school. These slips will be detached and given numbers corresponding to those on the essays.

All essays must be in the hands of the county superintendent by April 2.

The manuscripts will be handed to three disinterested judges who will choose the three best from all submitted.

FIND NO TRACE OF BRANDONS

Sheriff Tope Searches in Vain for Bank-ers.

Sheriff J. A. Tope of Hancock county stated today that he and his deputies have failed in their efforts to locate John A. Brandon and James E. Brandon, Jr., president and cashier, respectively, of the insolvent First National Bank of New Cumberland, wanted to answer 14 indictments returned by the Hancock county grand jury Monday.

The indictments charge embezzlement and larceny of Liberty bonds and other securities which had been placed in the bank for safe keeping. Twelve of the indictments were brought against John A. Brandon, and two against James E. Brandon, Junior.

Capiases were issued by the Hancock county circuit court and were placed in the hands of the sheriff. The search for the wanted men may be extended out of the state if information on their whereabouts is not secured Wednesday.

Efforts to obtain information on the whereabouts of the wanted pair at the home of relatives have been futile, the sheriff said.
